

NICE Actimize Draws Record Attendance for Its 2017 Financial Crime Product User Group From Global Financial Services Organizations

Innovations such as Robotic Process Automation, Artificial Intelligence, Machine Learning and Cloud Adoption will be the focus of demo showcases and user-focused panels

Hoboken, NJ – June 19, 2017 – NICE Actimize, a NICE (Nasdaq:NICE) business and the largest and broadest provider of a single financial crime, risk and compliance software platform for the financial services industry, will draw record attendance to this year's Financial Crime Product User Group to be held in New York from June 19-21. With nearly 300 risk and compliance professionals from more than 65 global financial services organizations attending the event, the annual NICE Actimize User Group offers attendees more than 40 different sessions, demonstration pods and moderated panels showcasing the critical technology, innovations and trends that are core to financial services organizations' risk and compliance programs and process improvements.

An invitation-only gathering of financial crime solutions users and technologists from the world's most prominent financial services organizations, the NICE Actimize Financial Crime User Group fosters idea-sharing and exploration around technologies that are improving anti-money laundering, enterprise fraud, trade surveillance, and case management processes. Leading the industry in financial crime and compliance solutions, NICE Actimize is investing heavily in these categories, integrating such innovations as robotic process automation, machine learning, and other advanced analytics into its financial crime and case management solutions to ensure greater efficiency and cost savings for clients.

"By leveraging robotic process automation, behavioral analytics, machine learning, artificial intelligence, and other advancements, financial services organizations can transform their risk and compliance functions and lower their costs. Our User Group events foster discussion and discovery around these advancements as they apply to the financial crime arena," said Joe Friscia, president, NICE Actimize. "This event has a history of giving those who work most closely with our solutions the opportunity to discuss new ways of incorporating these breakthroughs into their everyday problem solving experience, and this year is seeing even greater interest in these discussions."

NICE Actimize was recently recognized by Risk.net's Operational Risk Awards, which honors excellence in operational risk management and regulation with its 2017 Financial Crime Product of the Year accolade.
